

BARCLAY BUTERA has been redefining luxury his entire career and one thing has not changed: his firm belief in helping his clients achieve the “Better-Best” concept of living. The end result is a glamorous yet completely livable environment that often integrates the client’s heritage pieces into the Butera philosophy of blending furniture and pattern-on-pattern fabrics and textures. He also frequently uses the mantra “In interior design there are no rules.”

His ever-expanding “Barclay Butera” brand including fabrics, furnishings, carpets, lighting, wall art, bedding and decorative accessories are some of the marketplace’s most recognized and sought-after home products. He has appeared on NBC’s Today Show, Extra!, CBS, ABC, Fox, Beautiful Homes & Great Estates and HGTV; and has received press in the New York Times, Los Angeles Times, Wall Street Journal, House Beautiful, Traditional Home, Veranda, House & Garden, Elle Decor, Western Interiors & Design, Luxe, Robb Report and Esquire. He divides his time among his showrooms in West Hollywood, Newport Beach, and Park City.

LIVING ON THE COAST

Having a special affinity for homes near the water, tastemaker and interior designer Barclay Butera takes his signature style of pattern-on-pattern and transitional charm to the beach. Using a distinctive balance of vibrant colors and sun-washed hues, he fashions cheerful, elegant, relaxed yet refined spaces that never compromise comfort or style. The result? A collection of inspiring and inviting homes that captures the essence and embodies the character of waterside living.

Styles of these beach homes range from cottage and classic to modern and elegant—a style for every taste. Butera shares his decorating tips and design advice for giving any home a beachy clean ambience.

FACING: The Spanish Colonial influences in this refined seaside home are reminiscent of a grand retreat off the coast of the Adriatic Sea. Paying homage to the architecture, we used many angular furnishings to complement the striking curvature of the ceilings and windows. The warm neutral palette is sprinkled with shots of citrus, jade and cobalt to make it more playful and inviting.

ABOVE: Rich leather, bronze nail heads and old-world tapestry are the perfect balance for the thick, oversized terra-cotta tiles in the casual dining area. One's eye cannot help but notice the spectacular ironwork chandelier overhead, even with the magnificent view as the backdrop!

ABOVE: Quartermaster blue and white has always been my go-to for fresh, clean nautical spaces. The contrast of crisp white walls and distressed white woodwork give the room dimension, while the bold, wide-stripe bedspread adds a modern kick. The traditional old-world sailboat artwork ties the room together perfectly.

RIGHT: How can you go wrong working with that view? Adding classic blue and white Chinese pottery to this space created a room that's as elegant as it is calm and comfortable. Natural materials, such as the woven rattan coffee table and the mahar throw, warm the room.

LEFT: The strong use of red provides the anchor and design starting point for the entire room. Easy, breezy lake-blue walls and natural bamboo window treatments soften the space, while the blue floral rug adds a touch of the feminine to this otherwise very masculine space—a perfect room for two!

ABOVE: These walkway spaces become clever storage areas with the addition of sturdy baskets and convenient hooks (cleverly disguised as the friendly and familiar canoe paddle). The bench is a great place to kick off Topiders, and keeping the ubiquitous storage tote handy ensures all the essentials are ready for the next boat ride or seaside picnic.
