

"Anorak is what would happen if Monty Python, Ralph Steadman and René Magritte decided to make a magazine for children. Anarchic, fun, laugh-out-loud strange and perfect for kids of all ages."

Andrew Losowsky,
Senior Books Editor,
The Huffington Post

"In everything Anorak does, the saccharine, fat and starch of the usual children's fare has been replaced by the true sweetness of homegrown organic fare. Extreme fun for the kids and a visual delight for all. YUM!"

Françoise Mouly,
Editorial Director, TOON Books
Art Editor, The New Yorker

"Anorak is quite simply the sweetest, funniest, best-designed children's magazine I have ever seen. Every child should have a copy in their backpack; every St. Bernard should have a copy in that little barrel around his neck; every Lincoln impersonator should have a copy rolled up in his stovepipe hat."

Tom Devlin,
Creative Director,
Librairie Drawn & Quarterly
