

Liamacorn Saves the Day

By Kate Coombs

Liamacorn Saves the Day

Coombs ✨ Pallmer

GIBBS SMITH →

Art by Elisa Pallmer

$16.99 U.S.

ISBN-13: 978-1-4236-5439-1
5 1699

9 781423 654391

The Beavercorn brothers brought branches from candy stick trees and built a dam.

They made a pond that was cool and pink where the Lemonade River ran.

But Goaticorn came munching.
He chewed and crunched and snacked.

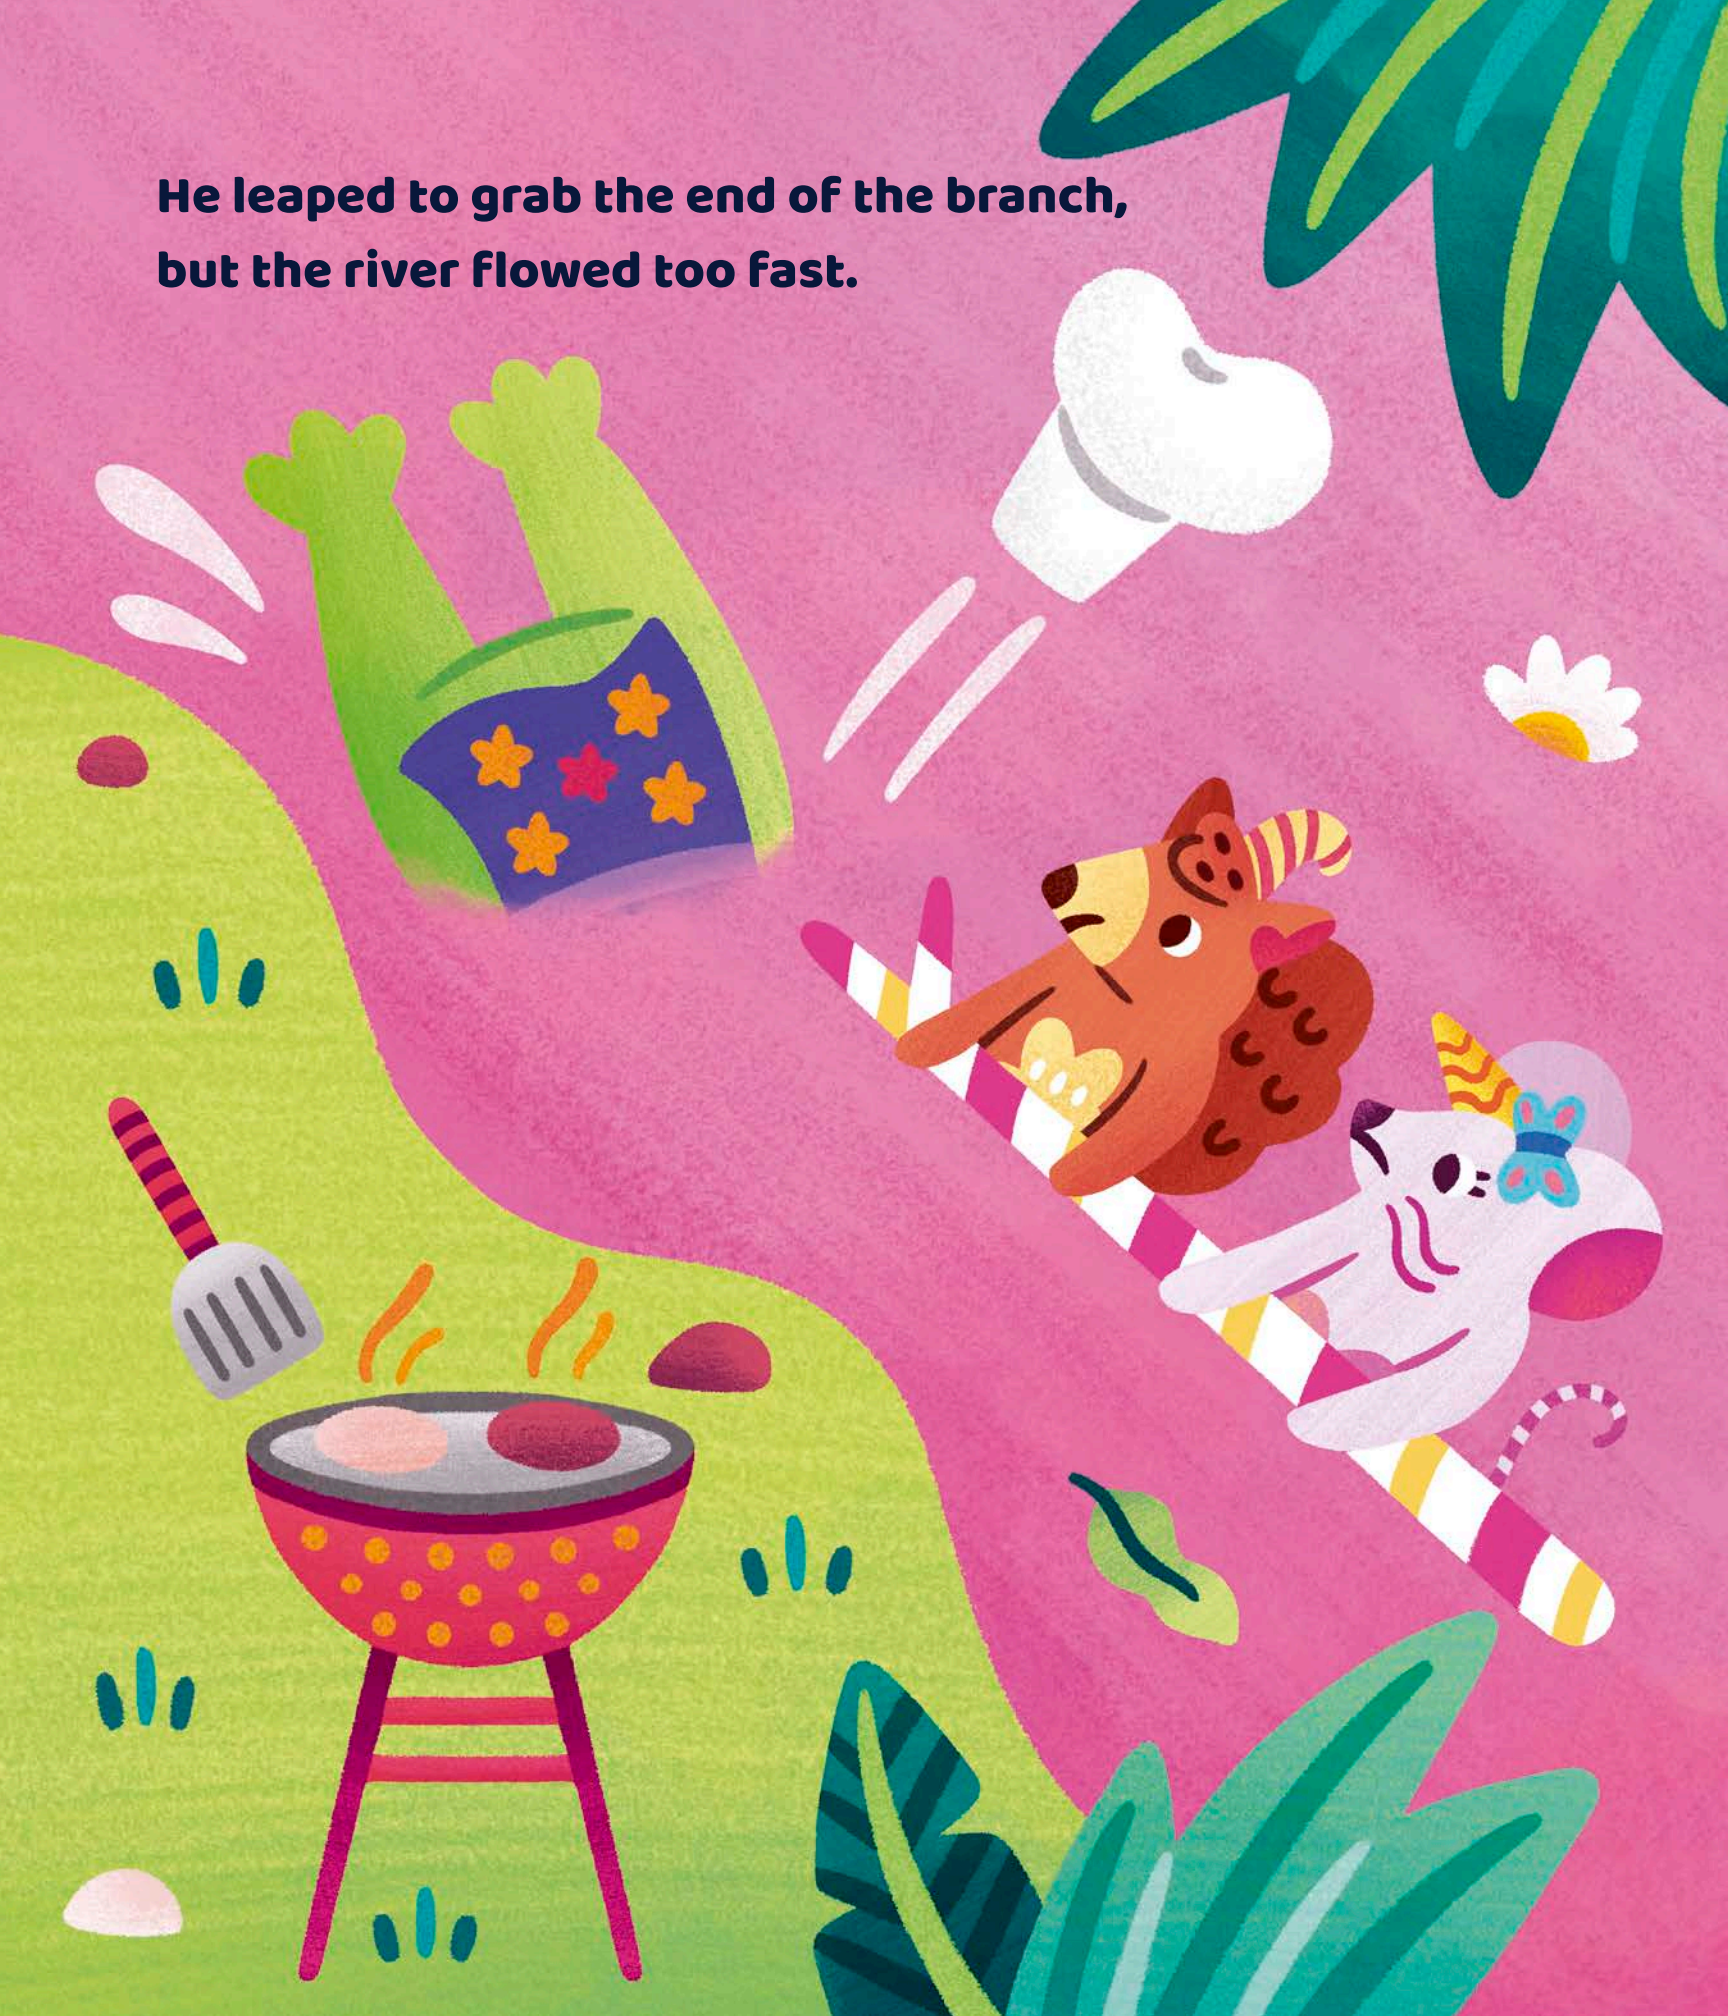

He munched right through the dam,
which broke with an awful CRACK!

Frogicorn saw and cried, "Oh no!"
as the two went spinning past.

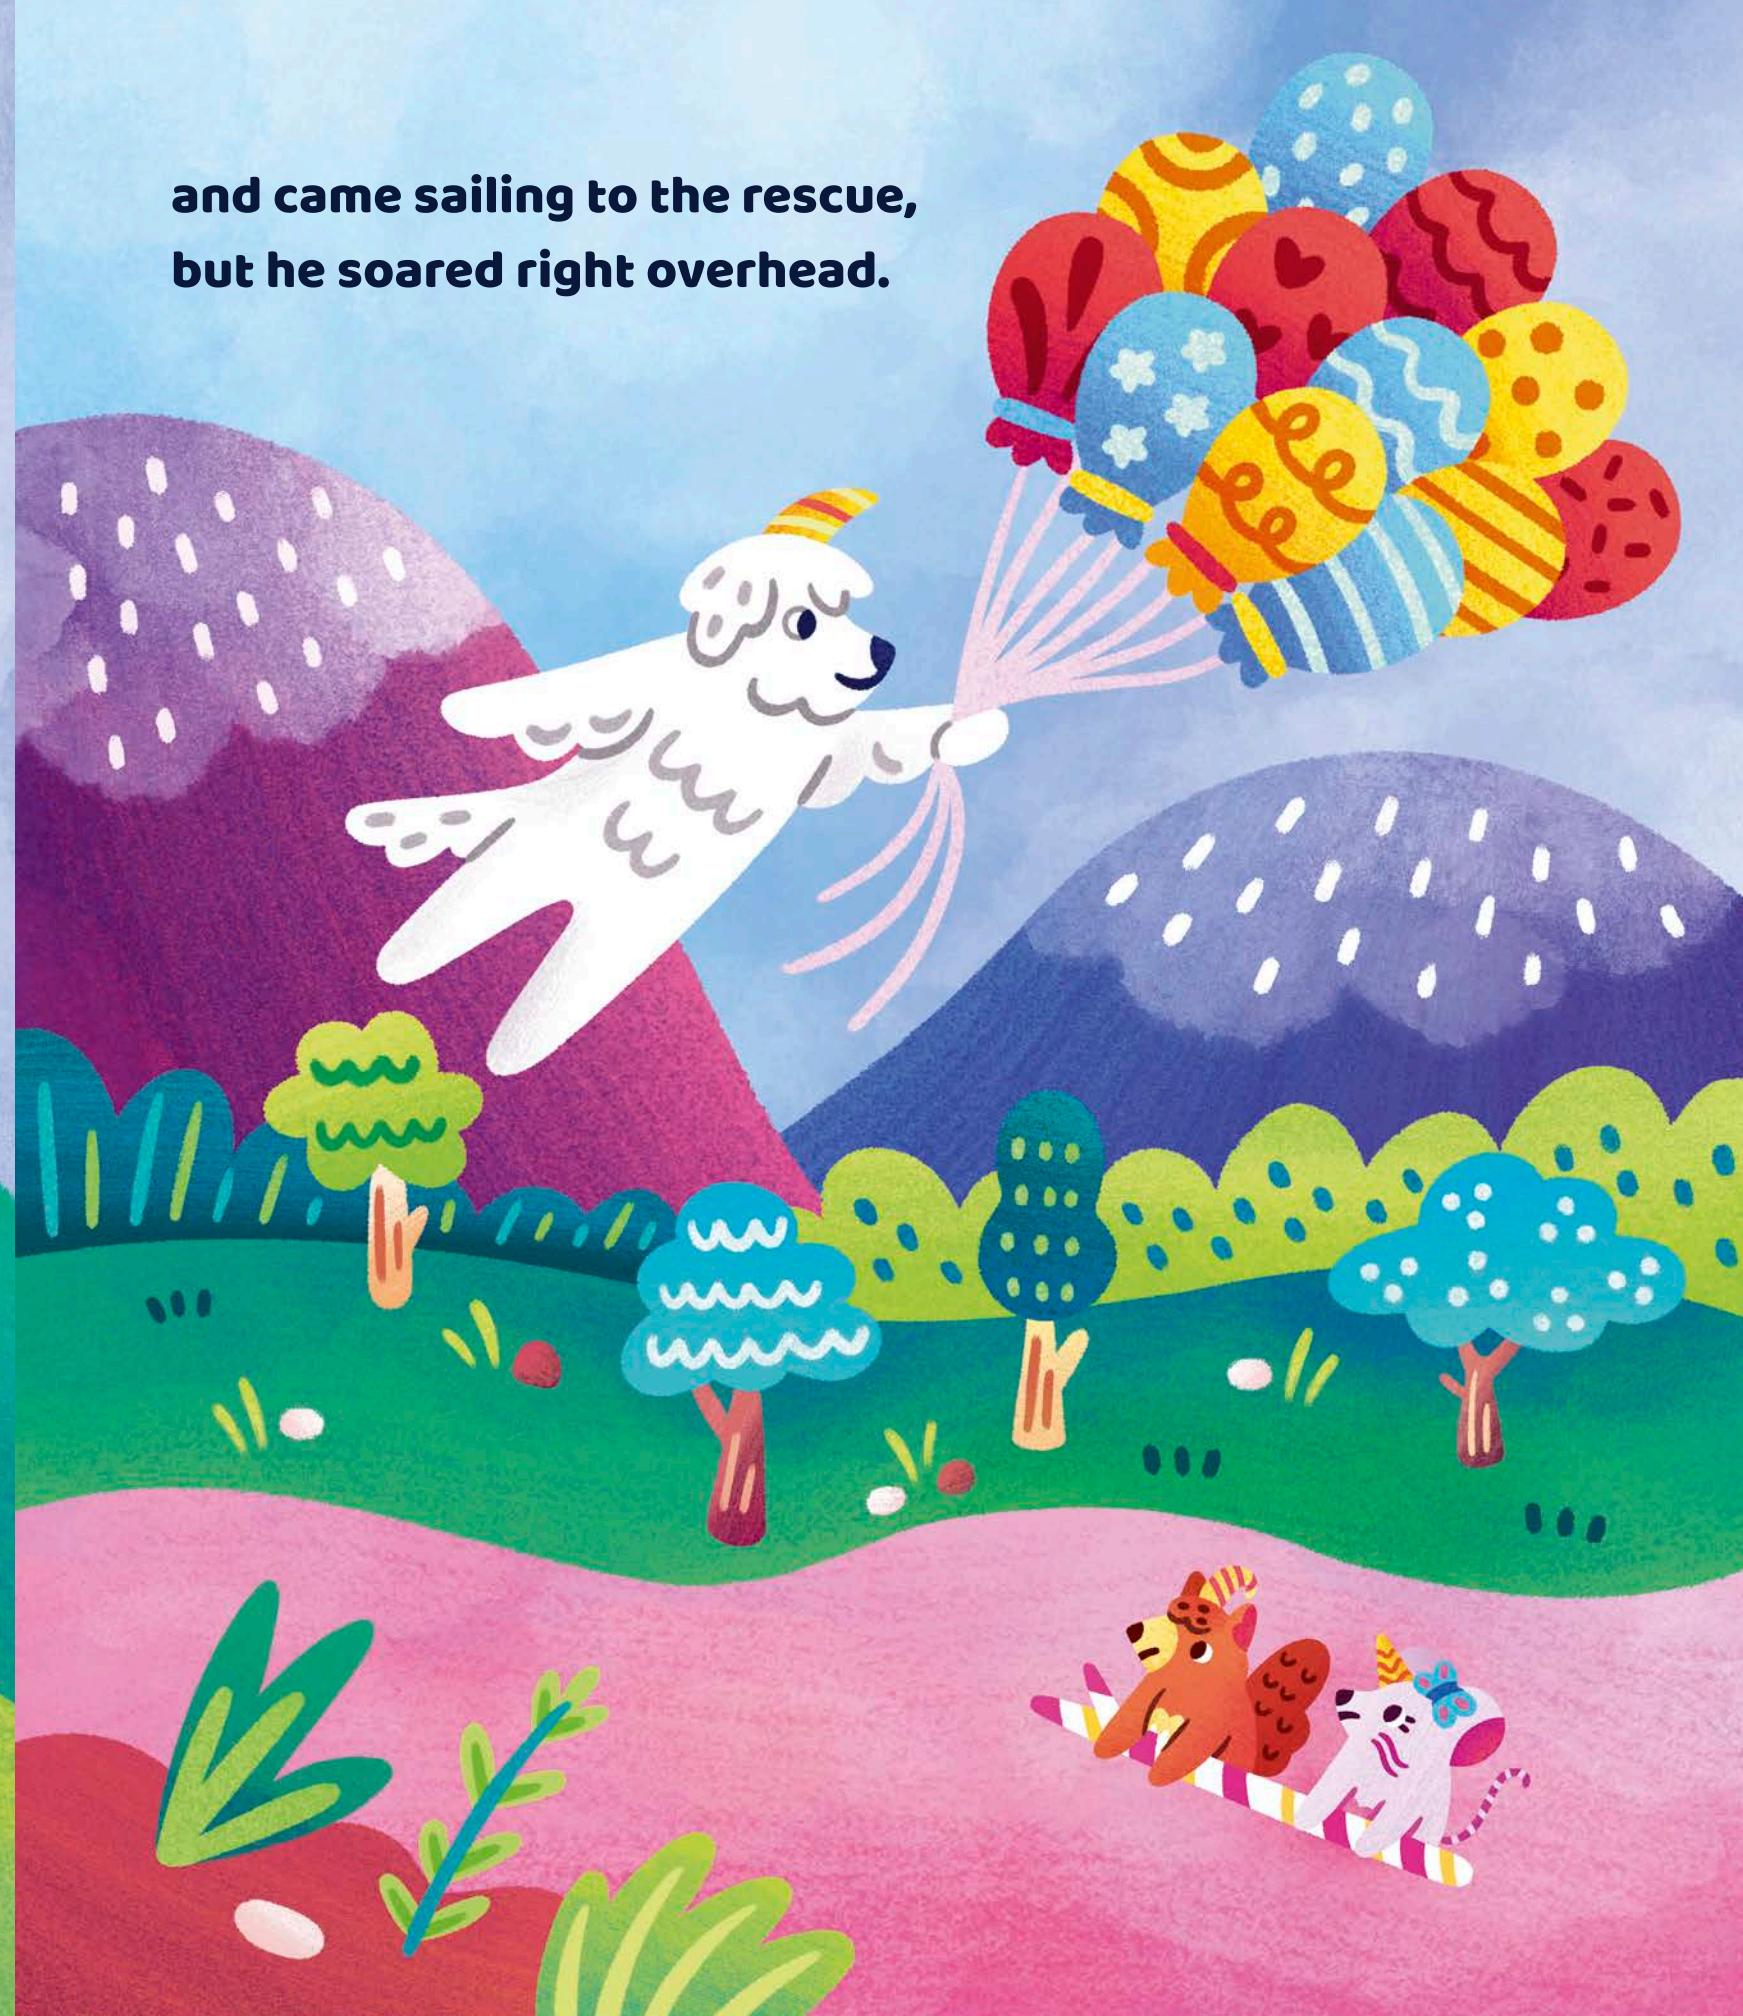

He leaped to grab the end of the branch,
but the river flowed too fast.

Dogicorn picked a dozen balloons,
yellow and blue and red,

and came sailing to the rescue,
but he soared right overhead.

Birdicorn flew to tell Llamacorn,
“Please come as fast as you can!”

Llamacorn dropped his sandwich—then he ran and ran and ran.

Goaticorn said he was sorry for his munching, crunching mistake.

Llamacorn Saves the Day!

Then they had a sunny party with happiness and cake.