THE DESIGN OF A COUNTRY ESTATE
PURPLE CHERRY ARCHITECTS & INTERIORS

Cathy Purple Cherry

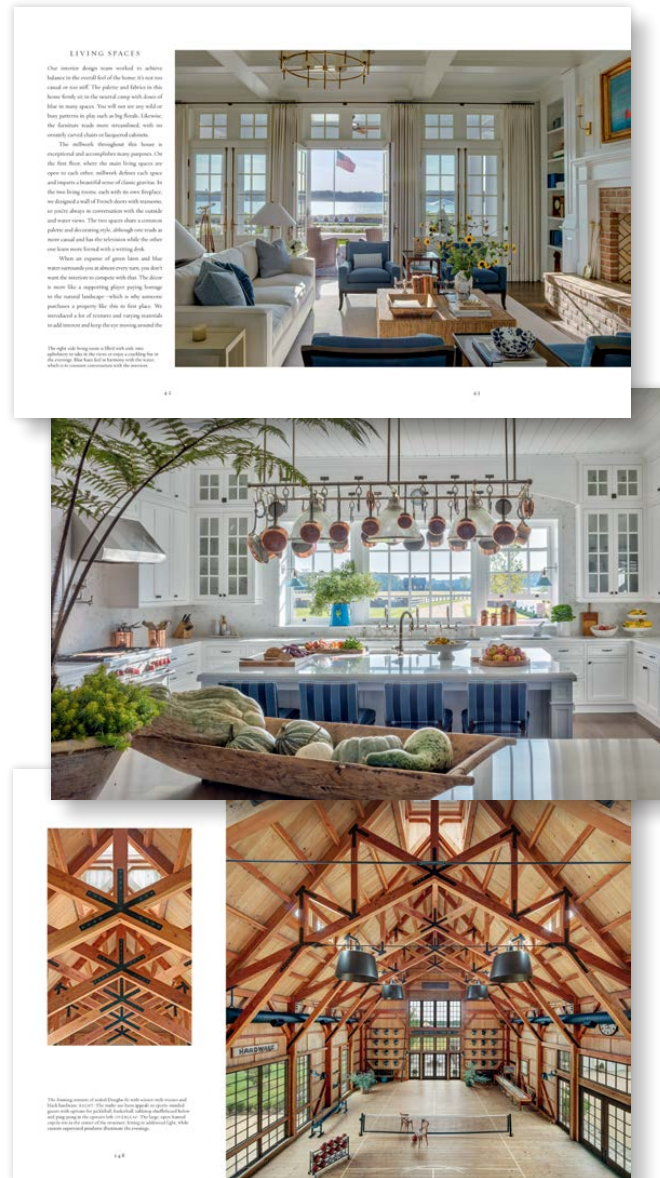

Architect Purple Cherry tells the story of this luxurious country estate (5 full kitchens, 11 en suite bedrooms) in the Mid-Atlantic and how the vision came to life. The main house, guesthouse, and seven outbuildings are dissected in detail so readers will experience what it is like to develop such a comprehensive project, from the planning to the execution, and all the steps along the way. The book focuses on the thought processes behind each decision, whether it is the materials employed or the location of each building for walkability and use. Rife with inspiration on every page, this book will appeal to luxury home enthusiasts and design professionals alike.

HOMES OF QUIET ELEGANCE

A COLLECTION OF RECENT WORKS BY WADE WEISSMANN ARCHITECTURE

Wade Weissmann

Wade Weissmann is passionate about creating significant and highly detailed luxury residences for clients who want homes where memories are made and each generation can add their mark. Every place has a unique identity, with specific resources and limitations; yet the unifying element is clients who want to stretch the imagination to achieve something beautiful and lasting. From farmhouses and waterfront retreats to a sports barn and a new greenhouse for an avid horticulturist, properties shown here will inspire readers with the range, versatility, and timelessness of both architectural styles and interiors. A feature section highlights the architect's drawings.

ALPINE STYLE

BRINGING MOUNTAIN MAGIC HOME

Kathryn O'Shea-Evans

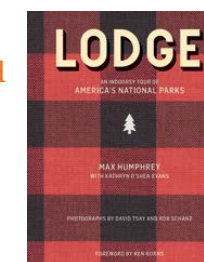

Alpine Style features some of the most exquisite mountain interior design projects on the planet . . . as enchanting as the mountains themselves. Whether storybook and classic or sleek and modern, these alpine interiors from across the globe are tailor-made for après-ski fun. From residential projects in Utah to ski-in, ski-out hotels in France, these are the types of rooms where exposed beams, shearing rugs, sumptuous textiles and stone fireplaces provide all the warmth and hygge-factor of a fresh pot of fondue. Throughout the book, you'll find insider tips on how to live your best life at altitude each season and rooms that are the interior design equivalent of Grace Kelly in Gstaad. Eternally classic, yet as fresh as that first October snowfall.

THE SAVAGE STYLE

Jonathan Savage

Jonathan Savage's first book—with a linen cover and foil stamping—is a luxury presentation. In it, Savage writes about his design philosophy. "I believe that the classical principles of design—balance, harmony, form, proportion scale, repetition, contrast—are foundational, enduring, and immutable. And I follow them always—even when I break what other people consider to be the rules," he says. He designs homes to be welcoming, comfortable to live in, and beautiful in every way. His passion is for contemporary design with a fresh approach, but contemporary does not always mean all-neutral, minimal rooms. He uses layers, art, fabrics, furnishings, and décor to banish any thoughts of a cold, sparsely decorated home. "In my view, rooms only come alive when people use them, so I'm a fan of spaces that draw people in every day."

THE ALUMINAIRE HOUSE

Jon Michael Schwarting and Frances Campani

The Aluminaire House was conceived and constructed by Lawrence Kocher and Albert Frey as an exhibition house for the Allied Arts and Industry and Architectural League Exhibition of 1931 at the Grand Central Palace in New York City. The house is constructed of mostly aluminum and glass, and was intended to be mass produced and affordable, using inexpensive, off-the-shelf materials. The three-story house was constructed for the exhibit in just ten days, and during its first week on display, attracted more than 100,000 visitors.

The historic Aluminaire House has been reconstructed in Palm Springs, on the grounds of the Palm Springs Art Museum, where it will be part of the museum's permanent Collection.

CAMP COOKING, NEW EDITION

The National Museum of Forest Service History

This charming cookbook celebrates decades of camp cooking by countless Forest Service agents in the field. Featuring legendary recipes for Dutch oven meals, open-fire dishes, and other tasty outdoor specialties used daily in the early days of the Forest Service, Camp Cooking has dozens of recipes, photos, and anecdotes. Dedicated ranger's wives prepared meals with limited resources as they accompanied their husbands in the field, often supplementing cooking with k-rations cooked over an open fire. In rustic and remote locations, delicious, time-tested creations were prepared and served, including Dutch Oven Beer Bread, Parmesan Mashed Potatoes, Pioneer Night Stew, and Creamy Pumpkin Pie.

PALM SPRINGS TIKI POLYNESIA IN THE DESERT

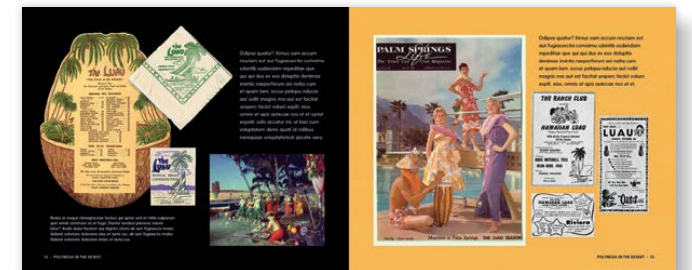

Sven Kirsten and Peter Moruzzi

From the 1930s through the 1970s, celebrities frequented Palm Springs' Don the Beachcomber, the El Mirador's South Pacific Room, the Bamboo Room at the Racquet Club, and Aloha Jhoe's. In Rancho Mirage, the "Fly In / Drive In" Desert Air Hotel hosted luaus attracting over a thousand people, and at Bing Crosby's Blue Skies Village was parked a trailer disguised as a Polynesian hut surrounded by Tikis.

Through myriad captivating objects, historic photographs, vintage postcards, colorful architectural renderings, and other ephemera, Palm Springs Tiki shows readers the many imaginative concepts that proprietors developed in creating a tropical paradise in the California desert. This book is a brightly colored gem full of historical information.

Palm Springs Tiki presents a visual exploration of a midcentury tropical paradise in the California desert.

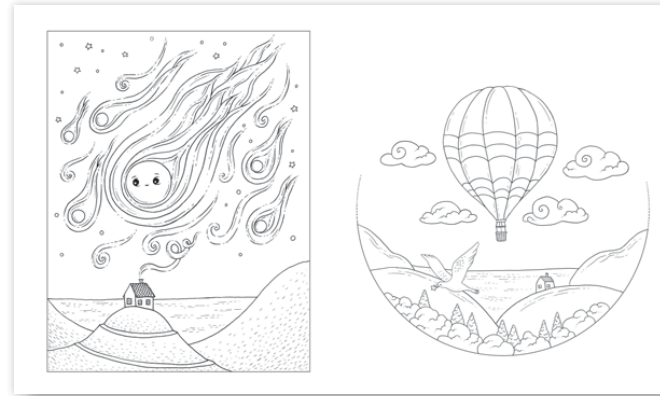

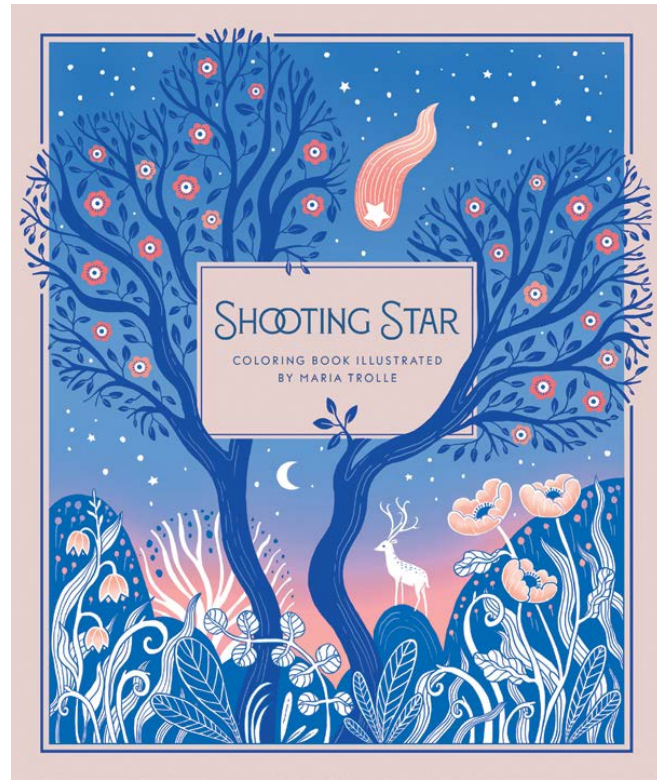

SVEN KIRSTEN, cinematographer, photographer, and author, has written five books about Tiki style, how it relates to midcentury modernism, and America's historic love of Polynesia. He also curates Tiki exhibitions, advises on new thematic restaurants, and designs Tiki mugs. Originally from Hamburg, Germany, Kirsten now makes his home in Los Angeles.

Historian and author PETER MORUZZI is a long-time preservationist with a passion for midcentury modern architecture and design. Moruzzi graduated from the University of California at Berkeley and later attended the American Film Institute in Los Angeles. He has authored six pictorial history books published by Gibbs Smith covering Havana, Palm Springs, Los Angeles, and Las Vegas. Moruzzi lives in Palm Springs.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS

BEAUTIFUL VARIETIES FOR HOME AND GARDEN

Naomi Slade • Photographs by Georgianna Lane

The underestimated chrysanthemum is the epitome of both flamboyance and style. From open daisies to multi-petaled pom-poms, Chrysanthemums offers a comprehensive guide to some of the rarest and most interesting varieties. This abundant flowering plant is carefully explained by expert biologist and nature writer Naomi Slade and is captured in gorgeous color by Georgianna Lane. Slade traces the history of this natively Asian flower from its origins in China through to its explosion throughout the US and Europe. Chrysanthemums are the perfect flower for weddings, gift bouquets, and to brighten the home. With expert advice, this book is the perfect handbook for anyone wanting to propagate, grow, or cut the perfect chrysanthemum.

WRITING THE GOLDEN STATE THE NEW LITERARY TERRAIN OF CALIFORNIA

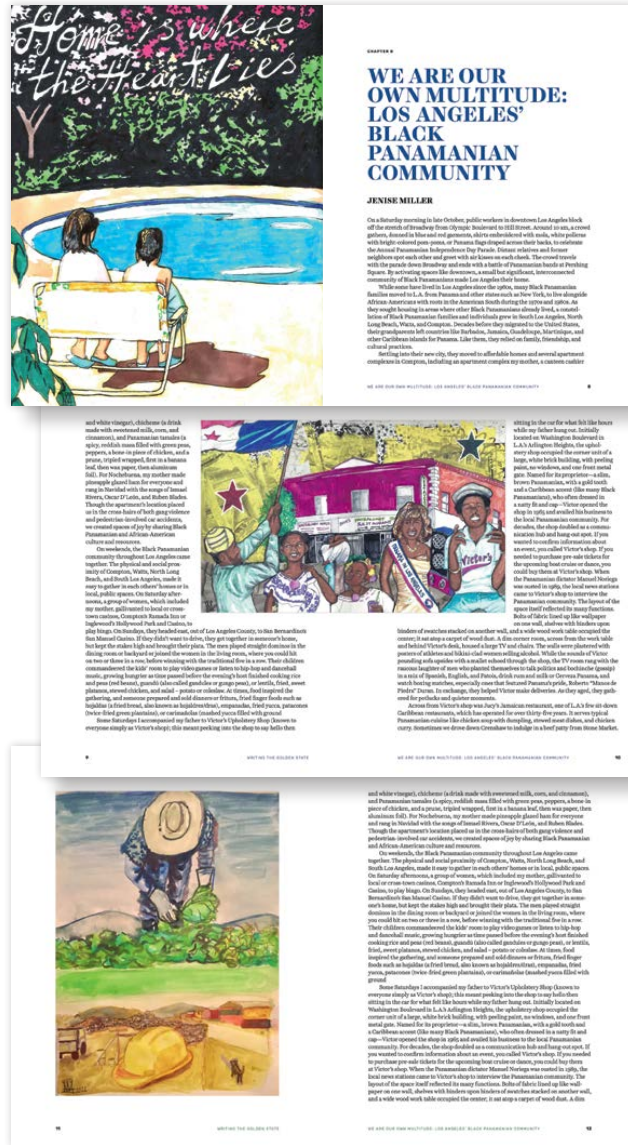

Edited by Carribean Fragoza, Romeo Guzman and Samine Joudat • Illustrated by Fernando Corona

Writing the Golden State: The New Literary Terrain of California explores California through twenty-five essays that look beyond the clichés of the “California Dream,” portraying a state that is deviant and recalcitrant, proud and humble, joyful and communal. It is a California that reclaims the beauty of the unwanted, the quotidian, and the out-of-place. Constantly in search of “the spirit of a place” Writing the Golden State pries into the themes of familial genealogy, migration, land and housing, and national belonging and identity. Collectively, the essays demonstrate how individuals and towns have weathered social, political, and economic change in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries.

NEW WAVE REBELLION AND REINVENTION IN THE VIETNAMESE DIASPORA

Elizabeth Ai

Spandex. Leather jackets. Synthesizers. And so, so much Aqua Net. It's the 1980s and New Wave music has taken its hold over a generation of young Vietnamese refugees who came to the United States after the fall of Saigon and struggled to adjust, finding themselves in a sort of cultural limbo. Many of these young people found a new life and a new identity in New Wave music, a type of Euro Disco that became enormously popular in this community. Featuring essays from prominent Vietnamese scholars, critics, and stars, New Wave explores how music, fashion, and rebellion can be a force for healing. New Wave is a love letter to the Vietnamese punks and rebels who came of age in the 1980s.

BOWLARAMA

THE ARCHITECTURE OF MID-CENTURY BOWLING

Chris Nichols with Adriene Biondo

Bowlarama: Style and Leisure in Mid-Century America takes aim at the obsession that swept the post-war nation: bowling! More than just a sport or a hobby, bowling became the ultimate modern lifestyle for Americans savoring the boom years that followed World War II. Bowling alleys were modern palaces; companies constantly aimed to outdo each other for the most spectacular architecture, the most luxurious lanes, the snazziest bowling balls, or the most exciting refreshments. Bowlarama brings back—in living color—all the excitement in its lavishly illustrated pages, packed with vintage photographs, exciting ephemera, and detailed hand-drawn architectural renderings that capture all the optimism, enthusiasm, and joie de vivre of the era.

NANA LUPITA AND THE MAGIC SOPITA

Felicia Cocotzin Ruiz • Illustrated by Carlos Vélez

Luna and her little brother Sol are out to solve a mystery! They suspect that their grandmother uses magic to create her remedies because she says that she uses a “magic” ingredient. Luna overhears Nana singing a classic Spanish children’s song about frog tails while cooking the soup, so Luna secretly thinks that frogs are the magic ingredient. The children explore the enchanted garden in search of frogs until it is time to eat, in which Nana reveals the real secret ingredient. Can you guess what it is? This sweet semi-bilingual story from the new “Mi Hermosa Familia / My Beautiful Family” series includes a seek-and-find of traditional plants used in curanderismo and includes the recipe for Nana’s soup!

THE MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR AT STYLES

Marci Kay Monson • Illustrated by Greg Paprocki

The Mysterious Affair at Styles is Agatha Christie's first detective novel (a cozy mystery—no violence or gore), and where she introduces her fictional detective Hercule Poirot. The story, set in England during World War I, is a true who-done-it full of mysterious characters and teasing clues. Monson's retelling of the original book captures the plot and distills it in a way that is fun for children, gently ushering them into the literary world of Christie's mysteries. Along with the story, there are activities, games, and puzzles throughout to help with children's engagement, and might just foster a few budding detectives.

There is also a glossary of terms and French words.

MARCI KAY MONSON is an avid reader, crafter, and gardener. She received her BS in Technical Communications from Utah State University and a graduate certificate in publishing from the Denver Publishing Institute. She found a love for Agatha Christie when her book club read And Then There Were None and never looked back. Raised in Japan, England, and Germany, she now lives in Layton, Utah.

GREG PAPROCKI works full-time as an illustrator and book designer. He has illustrated several Curious George books, the Little Leonardo series, and the BabyLit alphabet board books including S Is for Santa, B Is for Boo, E Is for Easter, and C Is for Camping. Released summer 2023 in the alphabet series were G is for Gross and U is for Universe. Greg's Gibbs Smith titles have sold 820,000 copies. He lives in Omaha, Nebraska.

OUR MOON

A BILINGUAL BOOK IN ENGLISH AND CHINESE

Lacey Benard & Lulu Cheng • Illustrated by Lacey Benard

Our Moon is a bilingual English and Chinese book that teaches young readers about the moon—what it is and its relationship with Earth. Did you know that the moon is actually a rock, or how long it takes the moon to orbit Earth, or what causes our oceans' high tides and low tides? Discover all the answers—in two languages—in this scientific book. This book also includes step-by-step instructions for a fun, hands-on, educational activity to create the different moon phases, and of course, it is also packed with important vocabulary!

NIGHT MARKET

A BILINGUAL BOOK IN ENGLISH AND CHINESE

Lacey Benard & Lulu Cheng • Illustrated by Lacey Benard

Night Market is a bilingual English and Chinese book that takes you on a journey through the different stalls and vendors you can expect to see at a night market. Readers will find comfort in finding some of their favorite foods and activities, and they may also be pleased to discover new things they'd like to try next time too.

As the sun sets, the streets come alive with delicious smells, music, and entertainment. The night market has something for everyone!

SKEWERS

Lacey Benard & Lulu Cheng • Illustrated by Lacey Benard

Enjoying food cooked on skewers is a fun and delicious meal or snack time favorite—after all, one can choose any ingredient to cook and eat, including meat, seafood, fruit, and vegetables. Our Skewers counting book uses adorable characters modeled out of popular skewers to make it fun for children to learn to count in two languages—English and Chinese.

Counting in two languages is so much fun with our skewers friends!
