HOME AGAIN

A RETURN TO GRACIOUS INTERIORS

James T. Farmer III • Photographs by Emily Followill

A house is a dwelling and structure, while home evokes the emotions and memories of a life well lived. A home is where the seasons meld into one another and the next thing we know, a decade has flown by. Home welcomes us after long days, work trips, and the ever-changing rhythm of life. In this book, Farmer takes you on a tour of homes that he and his team have designed across the country. From the farmlands of Georgia to the Carolina Lowcountry, the Blue Ridge Mountains to the citrus groves of Florida, to college towns, Martha's Vineyard, and a cottage in Mississippi, the homes on display are inspirations in traditional Southern style and reminders that traditional décor can set the tone to celebrate our homes.

JAMES FARMER is a Southern author, interior designer, gardening expert, and entertainer. This will be his third interior design monograph (following A Place to Call Home, Arriving Home, and Celebrating Home) and his eleventh book overall. His work has also been featured by Flower Magazine, House Beautiful, Traditional Home, the Today Show, and many more publications and outlets. He lives in Perry, Georgia, and maintains a home in Cashiers, North Carolina.

EMILY FOLLOWILL's photographs have been featured in Farmer's books A Place to Call Home and Celebrating Home; in her own book, Southern Rustic Cabin; and in numerous publications, including Veranda, Milieu, Garden & Gun, Traditional Home, and others. She lives in Atlanta.

SOUTHERN SENSIBILITY

THE INTERIORS OF EDITH-ANNE DUNCAN

Edith-Anne Duncan

There is a unique way of living in the South, a more gracious style with a modern twist. Sophisticated casual interiors with pops of color have always been Edith-Anne's design aesthetic, as well as a respect for heritage and history. Growing up as a child in the South, Edith-Anne's family home was filled with inherited furnishings mixed with modern touches of chinoiserie and unexpected moments, like a white leather bench with emerald-green piping. The homes featured in Southern Sensibility are meant to offer a balance between family time, cherished moments, and everyday modern life. It should welcome guests and family with open arms, where nothing is too precious, but everything is thoughtfully beautiful.

The homes featured in Southern Sensibility embody the graciousness of Southern living while offering a balance between the time-honored past and everyday modern living.

Creating a sophisticated but casual approach to today's lifestyles is the focus of EDITH-ANNE DUNCAN's interiors and what she does best. Her meticulous attention to detail elevates her creations to a higher level, and she uses a multi-layered approach to each project. She combines her education and experience to create a strong design palette and portfolio, utilizing history, travel, fashion, art, color, and technology to incorporate each client's wishes.

THE ELEGANCE AND COMFORT OF HOME

Dana Wolter

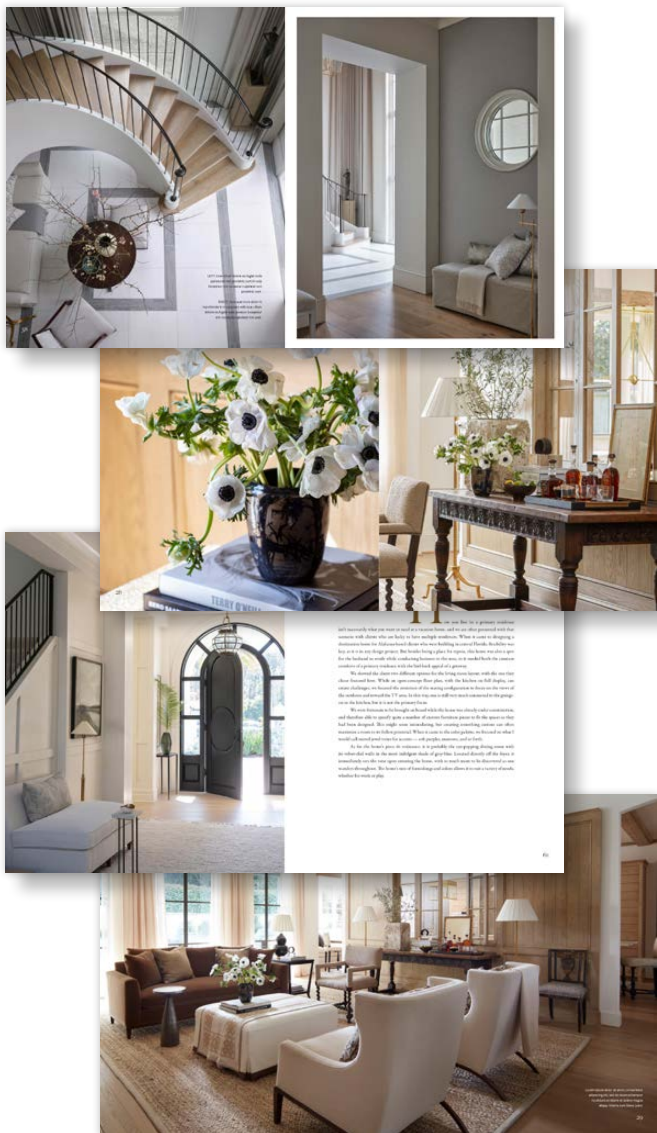

As an interior designer, Dana Wolter's goal has always been to create spaces that are not just visually beautiful, but more importantly, functional and livable for the entire family. She believes that the places in which we live should reflect who we are while providing comfort and support to our overall well-being. Whether it's a warm, inviting kitchen where everyone gathers, or a cozy living room for afternoon naps, she wants the design to look not only gracious, but also to support the family's daily life in a meaningful way. Dana loves using timeless furnishings and classic design elements that instill a sense of permanence and longevity. While trends come and go, these pieces ensure that the home remains functional and elegant for years to come.

MODERN WEST

Chase Reynolds Ewald • Photographs by Audrey Hall

Chosen for proximity to skiing, lake views, and mountain living, the homes in Modern West are carefully crafted, professionally built, and expertly designed to highlight western living. A dated, dark log home becomes an industrial-feeling space infused with light in Park City; proportion, scale, harmony, and the interplay of shadow and light take front and center in a mountain home designed from the ground up in Sun Valley; and a house in Santa Fe made for guests and entertaining features open spaces using wood, stucco, and rusted metal to create a neutral but textured backdrop for rooms invested with a New Mexico modernist aesthetic. In this book, modern materials mix with traditional western design and décor to create more than a dozen gorgeous homes worth celebrating.

ICONIC ROOMS

Kips Bay New York Decorator Show House at 50

Kips Bay Boys and Girls Club

Over the past five decades, the highly anticipated New York Decorator Show House has grown into a must-see event for thousands of design enthusiasts. Every year the country's most celebrated interior designers transform a luxury Manhattan townhouse into an elegant exhibition of extraordinary designs with fine furnishings, art, and technology. The event has become the Kips Bay Boys & Girls Club's top fundraiser, raising critical funds for much needed after-school and enrichment programs for children living in The Bronx, New York. To mark the anniversary, KBNY has created a very special book that includes 175 images of iconic Show House rooms from the past 50 years.

PARKLANDS

AMERICA'S NATIONAL PARKS AND PUBLIC LANDS

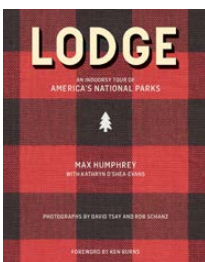

Jacob W. Frank

The United States has designated over 800 million acres as public land. Over the last ten years, photographer Jacob W. Frank has boated, climbed, caved, hiked, biked, skied, dog mushed, backpacked, snowmobiled, flown over, and driven through some of the most scenic public lands the U.S. has to offer. In this book, Frank invites you to embark on a visual odyssey through the wild beauty of America's public lands. Through stunning photographs, we trace Frank's love affair with the wilderness, beginning with his first internship in Grand Teton National Park to the present day. Frank's photographs serve as both a celebration of the natural world and a call to action, inspiring us to become stewards of the land and champions for its preservation.

JOHN HAFEN UTAH'S POET PAINTER

Vern Grosvenor Swanson and Angela Swanson Jones

In his short life as an artist, John Hafen (1856–1910) earned the title of Utah's “poet painter.” He searched for the universal and eternal beauty underlying the mountains and rural nature. While he vigorously eschewed commercialism in art, because of dire poverty and a large family (10 children) he was continually “forced” to paint quick pictures for the trade just to get by from day to day. His contributions to Utah art were profound and long-lasting. He was the instigator of the Paris art mission and the lead painter of the murals in the Salt Lake Temple. He began the art department at Brigham Young Academy (now BYU), cofounded the Springville Museum of Art, and cofounded the Utah Art Institute.

Simple, small, beautifully designed gift books of quotes and sayings for topics worth celebrating.

It's filled with humor and bits of wisdom from icons like John Wayne, Dolly Parton, Clint Eastwood, Ronald Reagan, and Billy the Kid, as well as lines of cowboy poetry and cowboy sayings. Wise, pithy, and humorous by turns, these quotes will appeal to cowboys and cowboy lovers alike and will make an excellent addition to any collection of books or ephemera on the American West.

“Cowboys and men are two totally different breeds.” —Cowboy Proverb

“No hour of life is wasted that is spent in the saddle.” —Winston Churchill

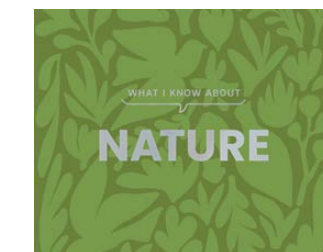

“Some cowboys have too much tumbleweed in their blood to settle down.” —Ken Alstad

The 125 quotes offer words of wisdom and inspiration from such leaders and writers as Thomas Merton, John F. Kennedy, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Louisa May Alcott, and many others about nature, beauty, good health, freedom, blessings, and each other. This book will help readers express gratitude, calm troubled hearts, and find joy.

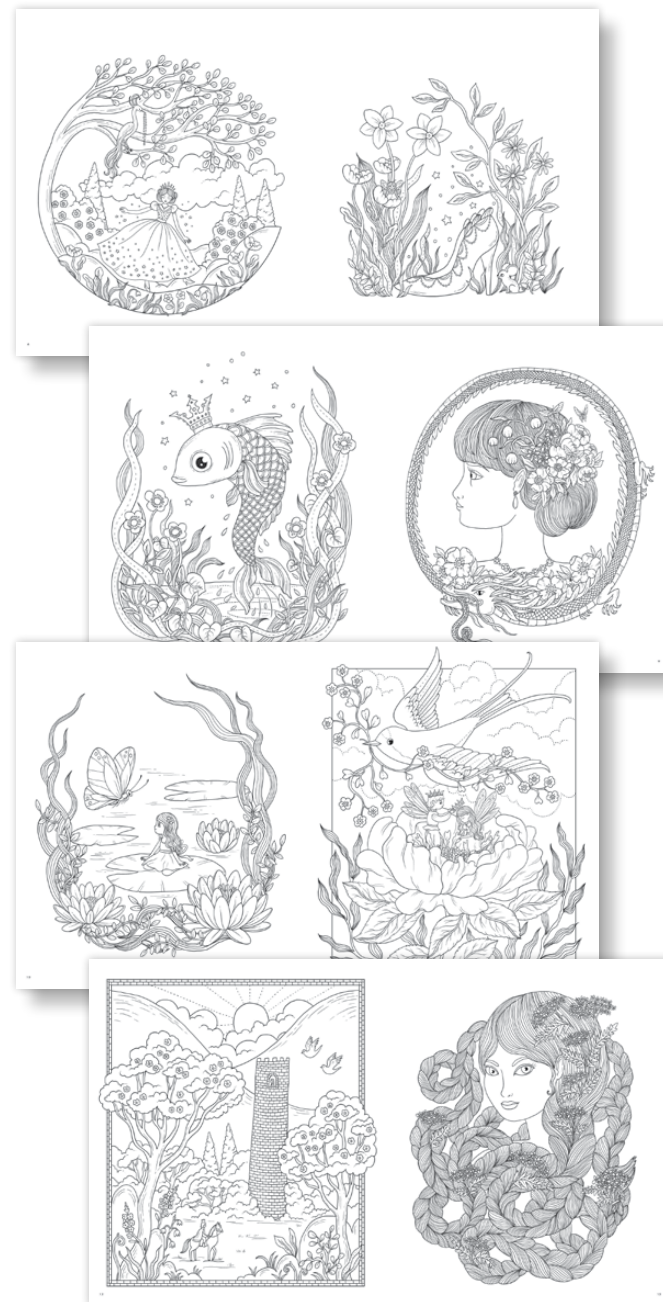

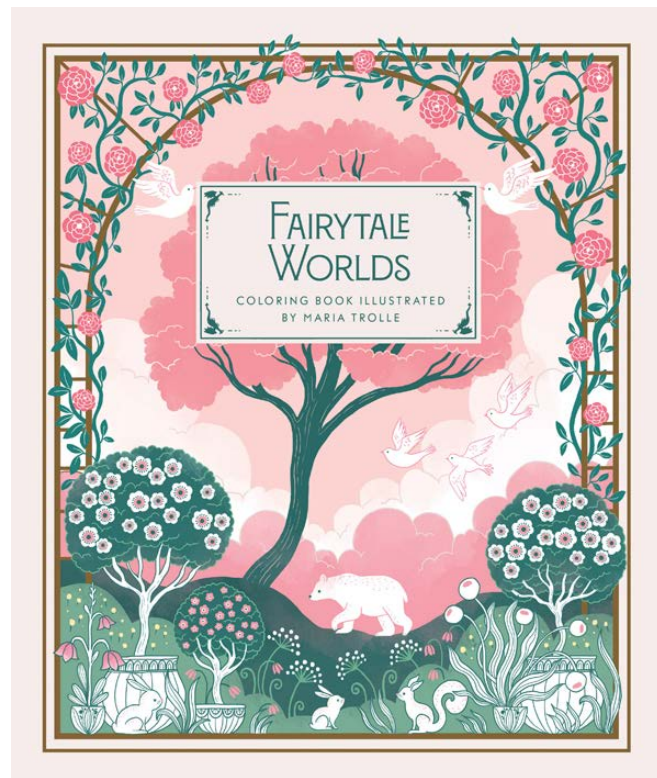

“When we lose one blessing, another is often most unexpectedly given in its place.” —C. S. Lewis

“The more you practice the art of thankfulness, the more you have to be thankful for.” —Norman Vincent Peale

FAIRYTALE WORLDS

COLORING BOOK

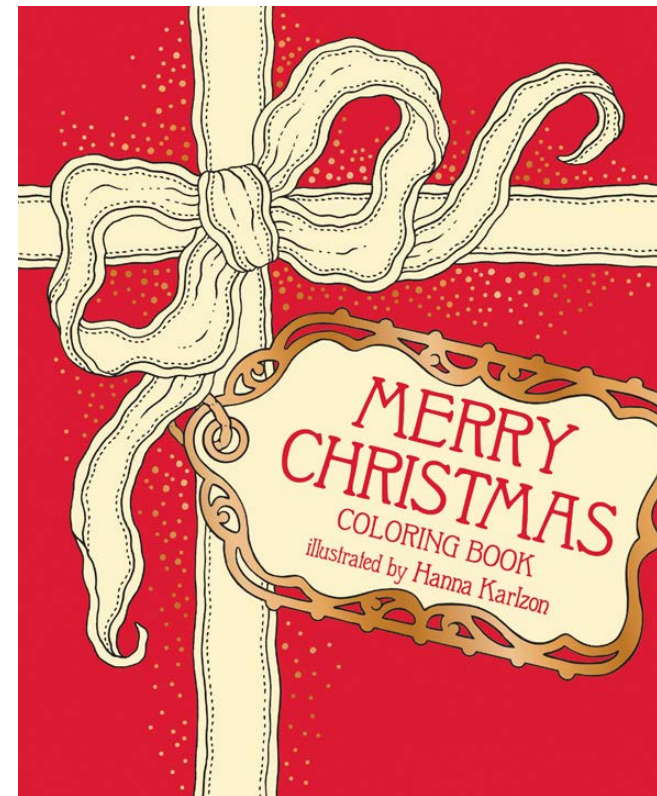

Maria Trolle

In Fairytale Worlds, Maria Trolle has drawn inspiration from classic folk tales, legends, and myths from all over the world, including Scandinavia, Europe, and Japan—as well as fairy tales from the Brothers Grimm and Hans Christian Andersen. This fairytale world is populated by mysterious creatures, princes and princesses from our favorite childhood stories. Forty fairy tales are interpreted, and each illustration is accompanied by the title of the tale and its origin.

Here, the palace's pinnacles and towers sparkle, and thorn-filled clearings and deep leafy forests hold secrets and magic. Take a peaceful moment and enjoy the magnificent plant kingdom and all the magical figures and creatures found in Maria Trolle's world.

FARMHOUSE WEEKNIGHTS

QUICK AND WHOLESOME RECIPES FOR DINNER

Melissa Bahen

“What’s for dinner?” No matter who we are, what stage of life we are in, or where we live, we all have to deal with this question—every day. To take the brainwork out of deciding on your family’s dinner plan, Melissa Bahen offers a compilation of time-tested, wholesome comfort-food recipes. This cookbook focuses on fresh ingredients and making meals from scratch, but it also embraces smart shortcuts and time-saving tips. Every recipe in the book carries the promise of having dinner ready in under an hour (except for slow-cooker recipes that only require prep time and are then hands-off all day). You will find recipes for breakfast for dinner; soups; salads; sandwiches; pastas; slow-cooker main courses; skillets, sheet pans, and bakes; and after-dinner treats.

CRUISING J-TOWN

JAPANESE AMERICAN CAR CULTURE IN LOS ANGELES

Oliver Wang • Foreword by George Takei

Generations of Japanese Americans in Southern California shaped, and were shaped by, local automobile cultures and industries: from desert lake beds to concrete speedways, gas stations to design centers, souped-up import tuners to humble gardening trucks. Along the way, cars and trucks became literal and figurative vehicles for Japanese American self-expression, social mobility, community identity, and much more. Interviews and oral histories chronicle the people and stories behind how Japanese Americans have played vital roles in countless car scenes throughout the region. Cruising J-Town is filled with vintage and contemporary photographs, drawings and ephemera that bring the story to life.

ELEMENTS OF LOS ANGELES

EARTH, WATER, AIR, AND FIRE

D.J. Waldie • Foreword by Rosecrans Baldwin

Elements of Los Angeles, the third volume in D.J. Waldie's trilogy of essay collections centered on his search for a sense of place in Los Angeles, evokes the classical elements of earth, water, air, and fire. In Where We Are Now, Becoming Los Angeles, and now in Elements of Los Angeles, Waldie has assembled a panorama of a city both tragic and intensely moving. Called "one of the most respected contemporary voices on life in Southern California," by the New Yorker and "one of the most artful authors writing about Los Angeles today" by the Library Foundation of Los Angeles, Waldie elegantly blends history, memoir, and contemplative observation, providing a portrait of the elements that illuminates the city as a whole.

IT'S TIME FOR CHRISTMAS

Illustrated by Kathrin Fehrl

Welcome to Santa's workshop on Christmas Eve!

Hard at work, each elf mixes up treats or makes hundreds of toys. The workshop is full of excitement with building, painting, and lots of noise. The gifts are stacking up as far as the eye can see. Look at them all! I wonder which one might be for me. . . .

Santa's reindeer and sleigh are all packed and ready to go. Let's wave goodbye to them before it starts to snow! Every page turn reveals a new layer to Kathrin Fehrl's adorable illustrations of elves baking cookies, making toys, and loading Santa's sleigh for Christmas Eve, with a fun seek-and-find for each scene. Perfect for Christmas lovers of all ages, this story is a sweet celebration.

IT'S TIME FOR HALLOWEEN

Illustrated by Kathrin Fehrl

Follow along for trick-or-treating through the neighborhood on Halloween night!

Grab your hat, vampire bat. Fill your tummy, mummy. Dress it up, little pup. Howl at the moon, big baboon. Let's raise a scare, grizzly bear. Now we've made a masquerade, a spooky Halloween parade.

No matter how you scare, I don't care. You're my little boo and I love you! Every page turn reveals a new layer to Kathrin Fehrl's adorable illustrations of kids dressed up as ghosts, pumpkins, cats, witches, mummies, and fairies, with a fun seek-and-find for each scene. Perfect for Halloween lovers of all ages, this sweet story is a celebration of one of the best times of the year.

C IS FOR CATS

Greg Paprocki

A fun collection of illustrations for young readers featuring various personalities and CATitudes found in pet cats of all colors, shapes, and sizes that toddlers might see in their own homes, those of family and friends, or on TV. Little ones will get a kick out meeting cats who are aloof or maybe grumpy. There are friendly, playful, and inquisitive cats, and others who are elegant or even a little vain. And don't forget about that klutzy one looking all silly as can be! Another delightful BabyLit® alphabet board book featuring Greg Paprocki's classically retro mid-century art style that's proven to be a hit with both young children and adults.

MYSTERY OF THE BLUE TRAIN

Marci Kay Monson • Illustrated by Greg Paprocki

The Mystery of the Blue Train is one of Agatha Christie's early detective novels (a cozy mystery—no violence or gore), and where she continues to use the fictional detective Hercule Poirot as a major character. The story, set on a train bound for the French Riviera, is a true who-done-it full of mysterious characters, missing jewels, and teasing clues. Monson's retelling of the original book captures the plot and distills it in a way that is fun for children, gently ushering them into the literary world of Christie's mysteries.

Along with the story, there are activities, games, and puzzles throughout to engage children and foster budding detectives. There is also a glossary of terms and French words.

TIA SOFIA AND THE GIANT TORTILLA

Felicia Cocotzin Ruiz • Illustrated by Carlos Vélez

Distracted by dancing with her niece and nephew in the kitchen, Tía Sofía makes a giant tortilla so big that Luna sees an opportunity for an adventure. Sol and Luna discover that it has a special magic with the power to be a cape, a place mat, a scarf, a blanket, and even more importantly—a way to bring back the memory of someone special. Exhausted by a day of laughing, coloring, ghosts, and broomsticks, Luna and Sol finally enjoy lunch with their favorite aunt and her little dog, Tamayo.

This sweet semi-bilingual story includes a seek-and-find of animals commonly found in traditional Mexican folk art and includes a recipe for Tía Sofía's flour tortillas!

A former teacher and curriculum writer, MARILEE JOY MAYFIELD has been writing children's fiction and nonfiction books for the last 20 years. Her passion has always been stories that inspire children to develop into kind, empathetic adults. Her books have sold over one million copies and have been translated into six different languages. She lives in Mandeville, Louisiana.

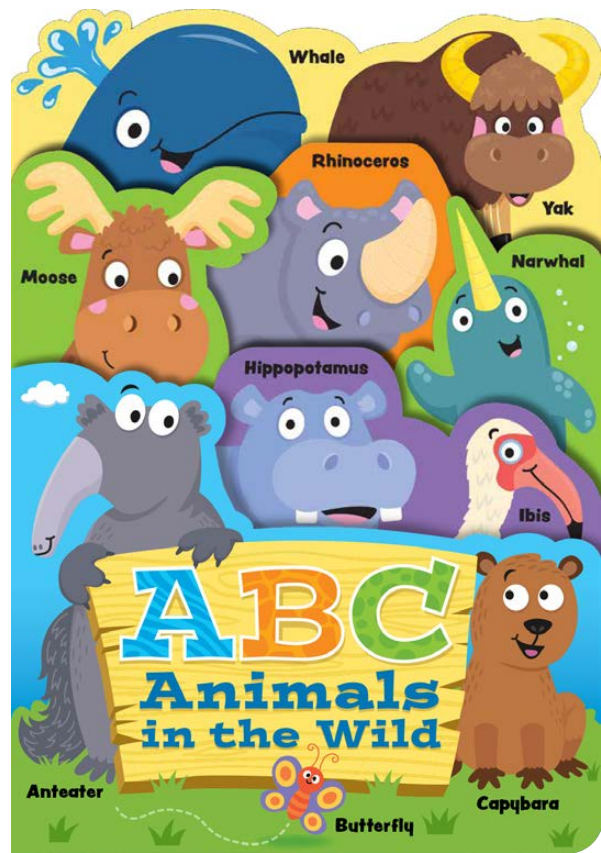

ANNABEL SPENCELY's career began with a degree in Fashion, followed by a Masters in Illustration. Her first job was in a publisher's studio doing coloring books and encyclopedias. She loves doing figures and animals but does not love drawing bicycles. She prefers to work alone with her pencils and paints and likes the feel of actual paint and paper, incorporating the accidental into her work. For her, inspiration can come from anywhere.

TÍO RICKY DOESN'T SPEAK ENGLISH / TÍO RICKY NO HABLA INGLÉS

A BILINGUAL ENGLISH-SPANISH PICTURE BOOK

Maritere R. Bellas • Illustrated by Jayri Gómez

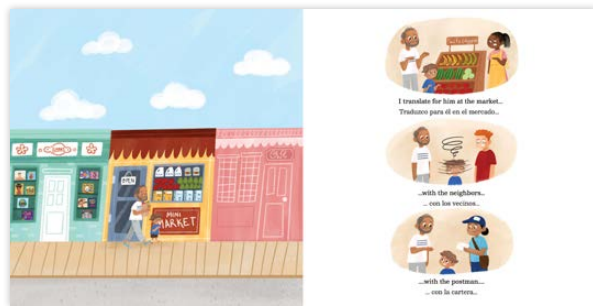

Knock, knock! Tío Ricky is in town and he needs his nephew Enrique's help! He doesn't speak any English, so his nephew has to translate for him at the store, the post office, and the bank. But speaking Spanish feels like such a chore . . . until Enrique finds himself in a situation where his bilingual skills become life-saving. Enrique soon discovers that speaking two languages isn't just helpful—it's powerful, and it can strengthen family ties in ways he never imagined. It's a heartwarming story in English and Spanish that shows you don't need a superhero cape to be a hero!

THE LIFE OF / LA VIDA DE VALENZUELA

Patty Rodriguez & Ariana Stein • Illustrated by Citlali Reyes

Fernando Valenzuela was born on November 1, 1960, in a small town in Mexico, but his dreams reached far beyond! Nicknamed "El Toro," Fernando dazzled baseball fans with his powerful pitches, especially during his unforgettable 1981 rookie season with the Los Angeles Dodgers. He became Rookie of the Year and helped win a World Series. Soon, "Fernandomania" swept the nation, filling stadiums with cheering fans who saw in Fernando a hero who proved that anything is possible. He didn't just make history; he brought the Latino community together, showing that small-town dreams can become big-league legends! This book also shines a light on the impact he made within his community, both on and off the field.

GWEN SUNG resides in New Jersey with her husband, two young kids, and a chill dog. Gwen is a product design leader by day and the creative mind behind a small business by night, a journey she started after becoming a mom and discovering passion and purpose in passing on her family's traditions and culture.

JOANNE SHI is a mama of three boys, licensed therapist, and an avid doodler. She wears many hats in life, but one of her main goals is to spread wonder and hope through her artwork. She believes in the importance of being a light in an often dark world and hopes her doodles can bring a smile on the hardest days.

It's the first day of school, and excitement is in the air. But...who is Lucy? Why does she have so many names, and what is she saying?

SILLY SHRIMP

A BILINGUAL BOOK IN ENGLISH AND CHINESE

Katherine Chow • Illustrated by Jordan Eusebio

When Quinn joins the symphony orchestra for the first time, he's met with a cacophony of clashing sounds. The toot toot of the flute . . . the plucka ding ding of the pipa . . . the bah dum of the tuba . . . what a mess! Will these silly shrimp every learn to play together?

With playful onomatopoeia and bright, colorful illustrations, Silly Shrimphony is an exciting celebration of eastern and western instruments, melodies and harmonies, and the magic of teamwork.

Since he was two years old, DASHIELL HSU has been mixing, rolling, and decorating all kinds of yummy treats. Before he was born, his mommy, Agnes, was a baker and had five bakeries! Wistfully, she gave it up and thought her baking days were over—until Dash came along! His excitement for sweets rekindled her love for baking.

Born and raised in Southern California, KATHY LAM is a Teochew (Chinese)-American artist who loves all things cute, and punny. When she's not designing books or doodling adorable animals, you can find her playing cozy games, trying new crafts, watching anime or k-drama, or enjoying mango sago tapioca pudding.
